The meeting was called to order at 6:30 p. by 1st V.P. Mike Marxer (Prez Kerry on vacation). Norm Record gave the prayer, then Pat Richardson led us in “God Bless America”. (Hey Mike, ass backwards). Don Killen, 2nd VP at the front table.

Pat Richardson acted as our sheriff and Don Killion had a happy dollar for her, running a 5K with his son, and a second happy dollar for her when he made a birdie playing golf. Ray Scoboria also had a happy dollar for Pat because his favorite barmaid also ran the same 5K with Don. Jerry Assenmacher also had a happy dollar because he moved his office from the heights to Monroe Street in Dearborn.

Vic Martin introduced our speaker, Tony Guerriero, candidate for judge of Dearborn’s 19th District Court. Mr. Guerriero gave a talk on the court system (he has been a former district court judge, magistrate for 10 years,, and an attorney for 34 years). He explained the District Court handles all misdemeanors, traffic tickets, landlord-tenant disputes, civil suits up to $25,000 and small claims court (up to $5k000 where no attorneys are present). The Wayne County Circuit Court handles civil cases over $25,000, felonies, murders, personal protection orders and criminal cases. Next is the Court of Appeals which examines the transcripts of the previous judge adjudicated trials. This consists of a three-judge panel and they submit their opinion. If you disagree, you submit an appeal to the Supreme Court, which is the highest court in Michigan and essentially the last stop.

First V.P Mike presented our speaker with a laser pen and the guest picked out the winning ticket. Ray Scobroia suggested our speaker and his opponent Judge Somers appear on Kiwani Talk.
